Work of Rescue In Dolomite Workings Resumed At Dawn

MOST OF DEAD IN ALABAMA TRAGEDY MET DEATH WHEN MANGLED BY STRING OF RUNAWAY CARS.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 23.—Eighty-four lives were lost and 60 persons injured as a result of the accident and explosion yesterday in the Dolomite Mine No. 3 of the Woodward Iron Company, according to a statement issued by Frank H. Crookard, president of the Company. Of the injured 35 were taken to their homes and 25 are in hospitals. Work of identification at that hour had not been completed but it was thought that 38 whites were killed and 20 whites injured.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 23.—Work of removing the dead from Dolomite mine No. 3 of the Woodward Iron Company in which 475 men were trapped by an explosion yesterday was renewed by rescue crews and undertakers' assistants today after daylight. Company officials said that the list of dead might be increased to 83. Checking of injured indicated that the list of 60 was about correct. Of the known dead 35 were white men and 30 per cent. of the injured are negroes according to officials.

At least fifty men listed as casualties were killed on injured when a train of trip cars, running wild from the tippie crashed into the mine yard in the main entry. The accident caused the break of a cable which, in turn, set off the dust, resulting in the blast. The concussion rocked the earth for miles and occurred so nearly with the accident that the victims were not aware of what was happening.

As the first streak of dawn swept the sky weary watchers about the pit appeared to gain new hope that missing loved ones might be found despite announcement that "all the bodies of persons had been removed." White and black huddled in the cold about the pit. Many children refused to be comforted. Tots of tender years stood through the night watching with eager eyes every crew that emerged. Joy occasionally rewarded women and children by workers turning up out of the night following their escape from other exits. These exits were miles from the main entrance and this caused families to be separated from those rescued for several hours.

Ford Family To Be On Display

The whole Ford family will be seen in Danville on parade tomorrow. Henry himself will not be here, but some of his close mechanical kinsfolk will be seen on the streets in the form of a parade which will be staged by the Crowell Auto company, this to start at 11 o'clock. Orders have come from the Detroit headquarters for this exhibition of Ford products and the parade will be pretty general throughout the country. There will be in line all of the Ford models followed by their immediate progeny, the Fordson and finally the youngest and largest addition to the Ford family, that is the Lincoln. The parade it was learned has nothing to do with Henry's presidential aspirations but is just another Ford idea of letting the people know something about that type of car.

African Mines Force Radium Down $50,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Radium has dropped in price from $125,000 to $70,000 per gram. The reason for the price slump in the highest priced commodity in the world is seen in the competition afforded by the presence of the Katanga mine in South Africa, owned and controlled by French, British and Belgian capital.

Stillman Appeal Argued For First Time By Attorneys

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Attorneys for James A. Stillman argued the first of a series of appeals before the Appellate Division of the Supreme court in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon in their fight to set aside confirmation of the referee's report, which was in favor of Mrs. Stillman and her baby, Guy, on the divorce action brought by the banker.

The initial appeal was from an order of Justice Sawyer declining to set aside one signed by Justice Morchauer, directing attorneys to show cause why the referee's report should not be confirmed. William Rand, attorney for Stillman, argued that this order was illegal because there was a similar motion pending before Justice Tompkins.

Six Men Are Charged With Malicious Wounding of Pennsylvania Cadet at C. T. S.

Indications pointed this afternoon to a prolonged trial in the Boward shooting case. When court adjourned for dinner, Boward had not completed his testimony and as there are approximately a hundred witnesses for the state and defense it was expected that the trial would last two or three days.

Severances were requested this morning and Dewey Boswell is the first of the men charged to be tried.

The trial was started this morning in the circuit court at Chatham of six men who are indicted for the malicious wounding of M. L. Boward, a student at Chatham Training school, who last May 8th was shot through the neck at Mill Creek under circumstances which surrounded the affair in a mystery.

This is the first time the case has been tried and it is expected that it will consume two or three days since there is a host of witnesses on both sides.

The men on trial are Dewey Boswell, Robert Easley, A. Taylor, Link Boswell, Houston Duncan and Joe Johnson, all men from Chatham whose activities on the day of the shooting were such as to bring them under suspicion. It is understood that the state will seek to pin the actual shooting on Dewey Boswell and Robert Easley who, the state claims, were seen in an automobile near Mill creek a short time before Boward was shot. The young cadet never saw his assailants, although he fired several times with a revolver, after he had been wounded, in the direction from which he had been ambushed.

The state claims to have a strong chain of circumstantial evidence while the defense will rely largely, it is said, on the presentation of alibis.

Boward had been sworn in as a special officer at Chatham, unknown to Superintendent A. H. Camden of the college to assist in the apprehension of bootleggers and some days prior to the shooting he had appeared and given evidence in court which resulted in the imposition of a fine on Dewey Boswell from whom it was testified he had bought a small quantity of liquor. Boward is said to have received a number of threatening letters and messages and to have been warned to stay away from Mill Creek, the place where he was shot.

This is the first time the case has been before a jury. Boward is a son of H. W. Boward, an insurance man of Sharon, Pa., not far from Pittsburgh, Pa.

70 KNOWN DEAD; FATE OF OTHERS AS YET UNCERTAIN

Frank H. Crookard, president of the Woodward Company, made the following statement at mid-night:

"Out of 475 men who were in the mine at the time of the explosion, it now appears that about 70 were killed and 60 more or less injured.

An air currents have been established in the mine and all parts can be entered. The mine itself is not seriously damaged by the explosion.

The explosion was possible caused by cars breaking loose and running down the slope, when electric sparks exploded the dust picked up by the speeding cars.

"Practically all of the injured are now out and are being given every attention. While the loss of life is terrible we are indeed grateful that more of the large number of workmen on duty did not suffer."

According to rescue workers and survivors, several bodies of miners have been identified although the bodies yet remain in the mine. The names of those identified were given as follows:

Sam Huey, master mechanic; Eugene Robertson, mine foreman; Jimmy Summers, electrician; Tom Warnick, miner; Jeff Waldrop, miner; Heishal Warnick, miner; Brad Crowder, miner; Gady Early, miner; Lige Stanford, miner; D. A. Busby, miner.

The bodies of Foreman Robertson and the two Warnick brothers were reported to have been discovered lying close together in the main entry. All of the identified bodies are of white men.

According to one of the first miners to be taken out alive, the explosion came with little warning to the men working deep in the mine. The miner, who was working in the forty-ninth west entry of the mine at the time of the blast, proved a hero. When the explosion occurred, the concussion almost blew him down. Realizing that a serious accident had taken place, he immediately gathered five white miners and 15 negroes who were working near him and led the party toward the mouth of the mine.

After proceeding some distance toward what they regarded as life and safety, Jones said that he began to notice after-damp in dangerous quantities. Saying nothing, however, to his little band, he struggled onward, but the after-damp soon became so dense that he felt the journey to the outside was impossible. He turned to the men:

"Boys, it's all up with us," he told them. "There's nothing to it but death."

Together the band began to make preparations to die. Gathering about Jones, they sat down, huddling together to await death.

Suddenly they heard a man's voice in the distance asking if there were any men still alive within range of the voice. Several of the men yelled at once:

"Pull down your brattice," yelled the voice. "It's all right here and if you can break through, we will all win out."

"They passed through the manway to mine number two and thus reached safety."

About thirty men saved their lives by blocking a passageway in the mine "trip" thereby shutting off the poisonous gas and after-damp until the fans were started.

As the night wore, fresh crews replaced tired workers. Mangled forms were borne from the pit. Caravans of ambulances wheeled their way along the narrow crooked road that led from mine to the hospital. At nine o'clock it was announced that it would take until one o'clock to remove the injured after which the task of removing the dead would be undertaken.

The Dolomite mine is operated on a 60 inch Pratt coal seam, and has one slope opening. According to the mine generated gas but sufficient fan ventilation and other safe guards were maintained to cause the mine to be regarded as safe. The ventilation system had been improved within the last few years, a new underground stable having been built and an underground hospital with pulmotor installed.

The disaster attracted a large crowd from Birmingham and surrounding communities to the mine and late tonight more than 1,000 automobiles were counted parked near the mine opening.

Officials of the company said that the mine would be cleared of dead and injured by 2 a. m. Rescue crews had expected every entry at mid-night when an official statement was issued.

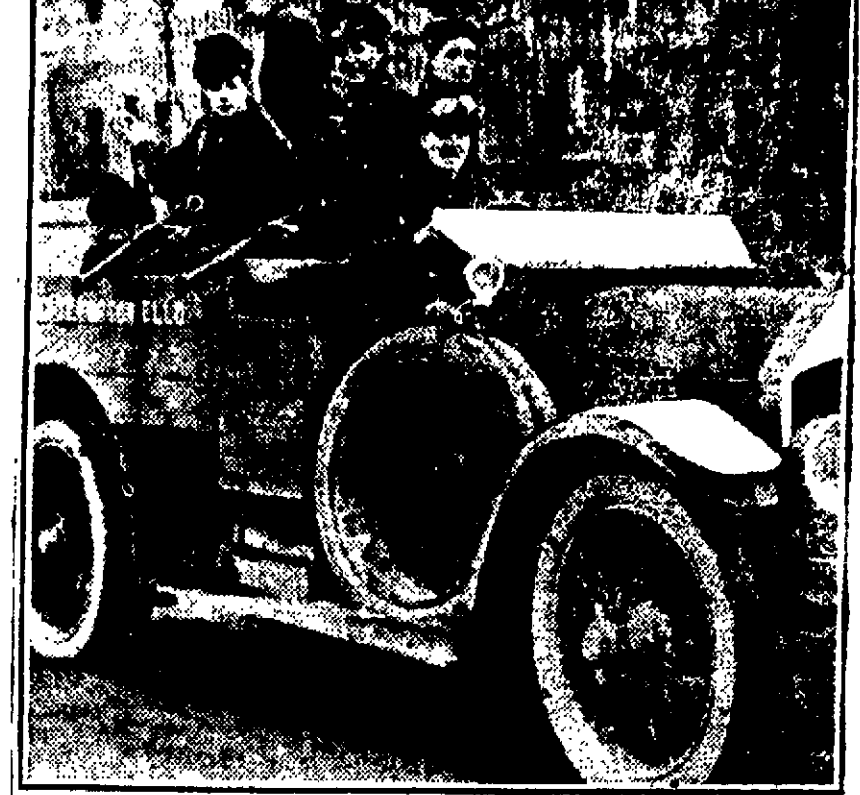

More than 200 workers uninjured by the accident and blast that followed were trapped for several hours. A manway connecting number three mine with Woodward number two, offered a place of exit for scores, while others were others were brought to surface by the mine mouth was cleared about nine o'clock. Most of the injured men huddled themselves in groups in various places of safety, some a mile from the main entrance.

BRIMMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 22.—Seventy miners are known to be dead and the fate of 215 other entombed in number three mine of the Woodward Iron Company at Dolomite, was regarded as uncertain by rescue crews who early tonight augmented their forces for exploration of all entries of the pit. One hundred and twenty-five men out of a total of 400 in the mine when it was partly destroyed by a dust explosion at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon were removed in the day from the pit by means of a manway connecting mines 2 and 3 of the Woodward Company.

Fifty of the men were reported injured, a few seriously.

of Ed. Flynn, former state mine inspector, who I know head of the safety department of the Tennessee Coal Iron and Railroad Company.

Frank H. Crookard, president of the Woodward Company is directing the work of rescue on the outside of the pit.

A manway between number two and three mines permitted rescue workers to remove 125 men. The injured were rushed to a hospital at Bessemer.

The Bessemer Fire Department was called to the mine, but was powerless to aid in checking the fire.

At the mine office it was stated that 475 men "checked in" this morning. Of this number, it was estimated 75 worked on the outside of the pit.

The largest hospital at Bessemer received word "to prepare all available beds for the injured" at 5:30 p. m. seven bodies had been rescued from the pit.

Ambulances carrying emergency crews and lung motors are being sent from Birmingham and Bessemer to the mine.

Rescue parties were instructed to remove the injured before removing bodies. This delayed the work of checking the dead. Most of the dead are believed to be negroes.

Estimates at six o'clock were that one hundred men were dead and it was feared many of the stated 215 remaining in the pit were injured.

The accident was said to have been caused by a train of trip cars striking electric wiring while running wild. Undertakers assistants entering the pit through the manway between mines number 1 and two, said they saw forty bodies. Women and children waited anxiously about the mouth of the mine for word of their loved ones.

Experienced miners by the score volunteered to aid in the rescue work. Rescue workers reported that the number of dead would probably run high, it being believed that many of the remaining 215 unaccounted for would be found in injured condition. A fire which followed the explosion hindered the work of rescue, and was believed to have been responsible for many deaths. The injured among the first men rescued were removed to Bessemer hospital.

Half of the men are white. As the work of rescue progressed, reports brought to the surface, grew less hopeful. One squad of workers reported seeing bodies "strewn all along the man passageway."

Darkness came, and women and children, white and black, crowded closer about the mine anxiously waiting in common sorrow, word from the pit. The injured were being removed by rescue crews, while undertakers were preparing for removal of the dead found in the entries nearest the manway. No attempt at identification of the dead or seriously injured had been attempted, the work of emergency relief claiming first attention.

All the doctors and nurses in the community has been marshalled to care for the wounded.

The American Red Cross sent a corps of nurses and assistants to the scene of the disaster. Ambulances armed with lung motors joined the rescue crews, whose operations were directed by Ed. Flynn, head of the Tennessee Coal Iron and Railroad Company's safety department, and Frank H. Crookard, president of the Woodward Company.

Officials of the company directed that every effort should be made to identify the dead and injured in order to relieve the suspense of the hundreds of families who were waiting for word from their loved ones. At the company's office, it was stated that out of 475 men who checked in for work today, 400 were under ground when the explosion occurred.

According to mine officials, a broke electric circuit caused by the runaway of a train of trip cars, was responsible for ignition of the dust.

A detail of Alabama National Guard on duty in the railroad strike area in Birmingham with Captain R. E. Thomas, medical officer, commanded by Captain Harry E. Smith and Lieutenant Walter J. Hanna, were ordered to the mine.

Military headquarters announced that an additional force of 20 men would be assigned to the mine for more work in aid in the general rescue work and for guard duty at the mine.

Assistant Superintendent T. W. Trew, said four men were injured when they were trapped in the "lion house" following the explosion while endeavoring to sound the alarm in the pit when they discovered the trip train running wild.

Dolomite is nine miles southwest of Birmingham.

LIONS AND THEIR LIONESSES AT A JUNGLE SUPPER

The Lions and the Lionesses gathered last night in the wild and fast-moving of the Burton jungle and did considerable roaring of one kind and another, though the female of the roar was just a little fiercer than had been expected, and came up to Kipling's best observations on the subject.

Dr. J. Cleveland Hall and Jesse Benton were chiefest among the male roars, while Mrs. Hunt Winbush was the exponent of roaring among the lionesses. Dr. Hall was on the program to welcome the Lionesses—and well chosen—for all the Lions the doctor has the most personable mane. But even he was just a little hesitant and approached his subject gingerly, with a softness of tread and a circumambulation that is not his wont. By a method of self-depreciation, in which he included his fellow Lions, he finally accomplished his purpose—at least the satisfaction of the men, which is the best that can be hoped for in most instances.

Dr. Hall's deprecatory methods seemed to call for reply from the Lions, but there was only one, Jesse Benton, who with temerity to make a defense of his mane, was done with plausible legalistic sophistry, but with uncertain results—and there were those Lions that had a feeling that their cause was hardly bettered by the fine Italian hand of Jesse Benton, even though he dealt in eulogy where his fellow speaker had indulged in disparagement.

It remained for a visiting Lioness to really make the Lions' manes perk up. Miss Fisher, of R. M. I., presented an anthology of the Lioness of the past, which was not only clever, but apropos. Miss Fisher also gave several readings that were much appreciated.

By way of propitiating the Lionesses present, the club undertook a recitation of the club's history and Mrs. Hunt Winbush was elected president to supplant, for the evening, Judge Harvey—and for the nonce it was a wilder, more aboriginal concourse of jungle inhabitants.

The program of the evening called for a beauty contest between a man and a woman and the plibiscite finally narrowed down to a vote between Billy Meade and one of the fairest of the Lionesses present. The final vote showed (there were charges of manipulation, though probably explained by the Lioness vote) that Meade was the winner.

On the musical program of the evening were Miss Louise Moore, of R. M. I., Miss Barnes, Hazel Browder and Miss Gunther. Miss Moore and Mr. Browder sang, while Mr. Gunther played the violin. Miss Barnes acting as accompanist. This part of the program could not have been improved upon. The Lions are to be congratulated on having a member who handles the "fiddle" as does Mr. Gunther.

The serious part of the program came when Frank Talbott, of the community chest campaign, presented the claims of the $75,000 drive to be made December 1st. Mr. Talbott told of the needs of the work, the great advantages to be gained from co-ordination and the careful preliminary work that had been and was being done. He also pointed out the need for every penny of $75,000 asked for to carry on the work. He also pointed out the great advantages of a community chest campaign, as against seven or eight drives for money that had been made in the past.

WRIT OF ERROR IN COUNTY CASE ALLOWED

In the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia a writ of error has been allowed in the case of Ethel V. Midkiff and other heirs of J. A. Midkiff, deceased, vs. Rosa C. Glass, Robert Glass, T. A. Carr and Mattie Carr, from the Circuit Court of Pittsylvania County. The original suit involved a tract of 154 acres of land in Halifax County and in the final decree from which the appeal was taken the petitioners and the Boston National Bank, of South Boston, as administrator of the estate of J. A. Midkiff were defendants and Rosa C. Glass and others the complainants.

The writ was refused in the case of Webster Barker against Commonwealth, from Circuit Court of Pittsylvania.

INTEREST INCREASES IN CABELL STREET REVIVAL

A large congregation greeted Dr. Andrew Johnson and his song director last night at Cabell Street Church.

A special feature of the service was the singing of the Junior Choir. Mr. Gossett sang very touchingly, "In the Garden," which was accompanied on the chorus by the choir.

Following the song service was the sermon of the evening by Dr. Johnson of Kentucky. He took the slogan used by William Jennings Bryan, in his national campaign, of "Sixteen to One." He carried out this slogan by giving sixteen scriptural quotations bearing out this slogan. One point that was especially impressive was that, now, there are only 6,000 ministerial students, whereas before the war, there were 10,000 students. But he expressed optimism by saying that quality makes up in a degree for the quantity.

After the service, the officials and those interested as personal workers held a "council of war."

WELLS-FINNEY

A quiet marriage was celebrated Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of the Second Baptist Church, North Ridge, when Miss Mary Love Finney became the bride of Oliver Wells, both of Sandy River, Va. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. W. Connelly. The couple were accompanied by Mrs. Ed. Robertson. They will make their home at Sandy River.

Stop distress after eating, gas, acidity, bad bloating in 10 minutes. Get rid of gastritis and stomach agony in a short time.

He writes: "I do not hesitate to say: Dr. Dare's Mentha-Pepsin is the best medicine in the world. It cured me permanently of a chronic stomach trouble after I had tried many different preparations."

Pepsin is, in itself, great for stomach misery, but there are other effective agents in Dare's Mentha-Pepsin that help to make a weak stomach strong and sturdy. All druggists everywhere sell and guarantee it. A large bottle for $1.60—adv.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramping or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Senator Lodge's Granddaughter Is Divorce Principal

Mrs. Constance Minot Sues for Separation Assigning Cause to Desertion—Capital Society Stirred by Development.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Constance Gardner Minot, granddaughter of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, and daughter of the late representative Augustus Peabody Gardner, yesterday filed suit for absolute divorce in Boston, according to word which reached Washington society last night. Legal action by the popular hostess had been anticipated for some time.

Her husband, Grafton W. Minot, also equally prominent in society of the nation's capital, is now a legal resident of New York City, while Mrs. Minot recently leased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw Oliver, 1767 Q street northwest, having occupied the residence of Mrs. Lee Phillips, 1707 H street northwest, last season.

In her suit for divorce she accuses her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Grafton Minot, of Boston, former attaché of the American embassy in Berlin, of desertion and asks the court to award her custody of the two children of the couple, "Billie" and "Nannie," whose statuesque gained for them considerable comment in art circles two years ago.

At the Oliver residence last night it was stated that Mrs. Minot and the two children are still at the residence of the fashionable northshore rector of Massachusetts, but that they are expected in Washington at any time now.

Constance Gardner, then considered one of the most vivacious members of the younger smart set of Washington and Boston, was married to Minot July 24, 1915, at Ipswich, Mass., the wedding being one of the most brilliant affairs of the season.

The romance that led to their wedding blossomed first overseas. Both were in England in 1914 when the world war broke out. Mrs. Minot then Miss Gardner, stayed in London helping her father assist stranded Americans back to this country, while Minot was performing similar service in Berlin.

They saw each other frequently and it was not long after her return to America that Minot followed her and their marriage took place.

Alien Problem In Congested Cities Is Becoming Acute

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 23.—The most stubborn and critical situation confronting American cities is the presence of large and congested groups of foreign speaking peoples whose assimilation has been slow. Dr. D. D. Forsyth, corresponding secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, declared at the annual meeting of that board here today.

"Immigrants have not been evenly distributed through our country," he said. "Seventy-two per cent. are in our cities. Some cities are almost solidly foreign-speaking and more remnants of the normal population are left. In others, great colonies have been developed, known as Little Italies and Little Polands, where the ideals and standards of the Old World are prevalent."

"These people are crowding into our schools, colleges and universities in great numbers. They are in every field of commercial and professional life. They constitute the great body of American toilers. They are to make up in a very large way our citizenship yet they are outside the pale and outside the influence of the institution that has meant most to our country, namely the Christian church."

"While a surprisingly large per cent. of these people is not Protestant, a large per cent. is not Catholic and not Jewish. They have broken with every faith."

During 1922 the board has assisted in 1,220 building enterprises, he said. Three hundred and ninety-one have been erected in cities of 10,000 or more. Eight hundred and twenty-nine were in rural communities. Eight hundred and eighty-two were in white English speaking annual conferences and 247 in negro annual conferences. Ninety-one were in foreign speaking neighborhoods and twelve were at student centers.

Several Hurt In Railway Mishap

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) NORFOLK, Nov. 23.—Several persons were slightly injured when a Seaboard Airline train collided with an extra on the main line of the road near Hagood, N. C., at four o'clock today. Officers of the road said that none was badly hurt. The train had been delayed several hours, but it was said that the track would be cleared during the morning and traffic resumed. Early reports that the two engineers had been killed were said to be incorrect.

Robert Royster's Place Raided and 26 Gallons Found

Police officers this morning raided the home of Robert Royster, colored, in the Red Row section, and captured 26 gallons of corn whiskey concealed in an excellent hiding place in a secret closet, beneath the floor. Officers conducting the raid were Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Patrolmen J. T. Harris, W. T. Kessler and W. S. Edwards. The raid also resulted in the arrest of Lex Rodgers, one of Royster's prospective customers, who was found to have a pistol in his pocket. Rodgers was one of the many who came to the house for a purpose of their own, while the officers were there.

The officers set out this morning with a determination to get Royster this time. They have conducted raids before, but had been unable to find the secret hiding place. They were convinced in their own minds that whiskey was being handled at the place, and the fact that five men visited the place this morning while officers were there unbeknownst to them, tended to satisfy their minds that if they searched long enough they would gain results. Finally, after a careful search, the spirits were found in a well-prepared hiding place, beneath the floor under a stove. A recent raid had failed of results.

Officer Harris, early this morning, saw a negro carrying several hot water bottles. He suspected the necessity of working for Royster and he followed her. He stated that he was almost certain the bags contained whiskey, but that he was willing to allow the negro to escape so that he might get evidence which would result in locating the supply. The woman went to Royster's house but the officers did not molest her.

About 10 o'clock the aforementioned officers, with a warrant, went to the place and were soon busy conducting a search. While they were there five negro visitors came, one of whom was found to have the gun. W. S. Edwards, finding the gun in the corner of a carpet and looking through a small opening, the rays of his flashlight revealed a jug. The jug was then removed and the contents poured out. The hiding place had been found. There were 26 gallons of corn whiskey.

It is Royster's third offense and he will be given a hearing in the mayor's court on November 23rd.

Germany Leads World In Literacy

(By The Associated Press.) INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—Germany leads the world in literacy, according to a statement today by Garland W. Powell, national director of the Americanism Commission of the American Legion, based upon estimates of the 1920 census. The United States is eleventh on the literacy list of leading nations, Mr. Powell said. Countries which have fewer illiterates than America, according to Mr. Powell, are Germany, Denmark, Switzerland, Holland, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Scotland, England, Wales and France. The 1920 census showing that more than five million persons, or 16 per cent. of the American population, are illiterate, is too low, because a confession of illiteracy to a census taker was necessary to enroll the person among those who can neither read nor write. Mr. Powell declared. "This made it easy for the illiterate to conceal his ignorance, since there was no test of literacy."

A gain in illiteracy of 117,344 in twelve years during the period 1910-1920, was for the most part, due to those states having received the greatest influx of immigrants during the last decade, according to the statement.

The American Legion is appalled at the discovery of America's low standing," he said. "The correction of this deplorable state of affairs will be one of the foremost activities of the Americanism Commission."

Among the first steps which the Legion will take is the holding of an American Education week, Dec. 3 to 9, inclusive, and the undertaking of a fight for total exclusion of illiterate persons for a period of five years, it was announced. The Legion's hope is to eliminate illiteracy by 1927, according to Mr. Powell.

In cooperation with the National Education Service, the Legion has adopted as its slogan, "Adopt An Illiterate Today," recommending that its members and other patriotic citizens teach immigrants to read and write and to make them familiar with the principles of American citizenship and system of government. Army draft tests showed that out of 1,552,256 persons examined, 24.5 per cent. could neither read nor write, Mr. Powell declared.

Convicted Slayer Granted Appeal

Seek Production Of Helium Gas On Big Scale For Blimps

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The recurrence of disasters to hydrogen-inflated air ships has turned public attention to the possible development of helium—a non-inflammable gas first discovered during the World War and regarded by many experts as the most promising of the new solution of the lighter-than-air craft problem. Government and other experts believe that the use of helium would have prevented the terrible disaster of late years, such as that of the Rona and the C-2. While only one ship, an army blimp, thus far has been filled with helium, quantity production of this rare gas now is forecast.

Satisfactory operation, on a laboratory scale, of a simplified and much cheaper method of recovering helium from natural gas is reported through the American Chemical Society by H. Foster Paul, director of the United States Bureau of Mines. In test run made within the last month at the cryogenic laboratory in the Interior Department Building, helium was recovered in one operation in sufficient purity to use in balloons and dirigibles.

"This development," says Director Paul, "indicates that very soon the cost of producing helium will be too great to permit of widespread use. However, with the new methods found, they look forward with confidence to its general use in the near future."

Helium has 92 per cent. the lifting capacity of hydrogen, and, unlike hydrogen, does not rapidly deteriorate, does not readily leak from a gas bag and has all the advantages of hydrogen without the great danger drawback. In fact, helium makes a more satisfactory filler, navy dirigible pilots have told the Bureau chemists, because a helium-filled bag is steeper in the air.

The government now has stored approximately 2,000,000 cubic feet of helium, and is producing at the rate of 15,000 cubic feet daily at its commercial production plant at Fort Worth, Texas, the only helium plant in the world. As soon as this plant has started running at full capacity, it is expected the government will be able to produce helium at the low cost of ten cents a cubic foot.

The Fort Worth plant will run last year for only a few months and that only on experimental bases. The plant was started running continuously, however, on October first.

Helium occurs on earth only in certain natural gases, much of which in this country were used for illuminating and power generating, refining oil and discarding helium among other "impurities." Such gases occur also in Italy and Canada, but no helium is being recovered in those countries. Representative Julius Kahn, of California, has introduced a bill to Congress to support a definite program for helium recovery, the operation of which is expected from the next session of that body.

"Meanwhile," says Dr. Moore, of the Bureau of Mines, "every effort is being made to encourage the production of helium by commercial companies, and every assistance will be given by the government in such development."

Under the present system of helium extraction, followed in Fort Worth, a 64 per cent. return of helium is obtained from the natural gas. This 64 per cent. must be put through a purifying process before it can be used. By the new method, only one process of extraction is necessary, after which the gas is supplied directly to the aircraft.

The Fort Worth plant employs 200 men under the direction of Commander Olsen. Funds are available for the operation of the plant until Jan. 1, at least and then it is expected that enough will be forthcoming for the commercial production tests.

WEDDING LICENSES ISSUED

Wedding licenses have been issued by the clerk of the Corporation court to the following: Yancey Shelton Miles, of Burlington, N. C., and Bessie Miles, Yanceyville.

Prosser Jeffreys and Verdie Idol, Greensboro, N. C.

T. Townsend, Keyesville, Va., and Mollie Etna Durham, Danville.

Walter Hines Held Responsible for Killing Richmond Policeman to Be Tried Again.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 22.—Walter H. Hines was granted an appeal from his conviction in murder, in Hastings court, Part II, when the supreme court of appeals granted him a writ of error today. This action means that the high tribunal will review the case. If upon that review the court affirms the decision of the lower tribunal, Hines will have to serve the sentence of fifteen years in the penitentiary, imposed on him upon his conviction of the second degree murder of Policeman W. L. Curtis, who was killed on August 22, 1921, at about 2 o'clock in the morning in an open field, used as a lumber yard, at the corner of Stockton and Fifth streets, South Richmond. If the case is reversed Hines will get a new trial. The petition acted on today was presented by J. M. Turner and Louis Wendenburg, counsel for Hines. Petitioner relies for a reversal mainly on the evidence as to the killing, irregularities in drawing the venire, certain facts and words of Captain A. S. Wright, chief of the Richmond detective force, and the after-discovered evidence tending to prove that Curtis Jenkins was the slayer of Policeman Curtis. The stenographer's transcript in the case numbers 689 pages.

The petition asserts that there was prejudice against Hines on the part of the Richmond police force, and that when Captain Wright arrived at the scene of the killing and took charge of the investigation he at once suspected petitioner and said that there was "no use looking for any one else but Walter R. Hines."

Attention is called to the fact that the slain policeman was an athlete of great size and strength, and that Hines, who was as small as a man as Hines could not have pulled him into the position which he must have been in when the shots were fired which killed him.

It is further asserted that Captain Wright smelled the cap found at the scene and supposed to have been that of the slayer and remarked that it "had no negro smell about it." Attention is called to testimony to the effect that the cap was a white cap with white hairs out of the cap and threw them away, and in this connection it is asserted that Hines' hair is light brown.

In one of the assignments of error it is stated that the original venire issued commanded the summoning of twenty persons from a list furnished by the "judge of the court" whereas the code prescribed that the venire must come from a list furnished by the clerk of the court.

Error is also predicated of the action of the court below in refusing to admit testimony to the effect that when the court ordered the commonwealth to give the defense a list of the prosecution's witnesses that Captain Wright removed therefrom the names of S. B. Wyatt, Miss Bruning and Lucy Slater. "Eye-witnesses who saw the man who ran from the scene immediately following the shooting."

It is also asserted that the court below was in error in refusing to admit testimony of Gordon P. Smith, of the Richmond detective force, to the effect that Captain Wright had instructed him to go to Seventeenth street and pick up any negro he could find and carry him to jail to identify Hines.

It is claimed that the only real evidence against Hines was that of Captain Wright and one Michaels, who swore that the cap found at the scene was that of petitioner. In this connection the petition says:

"Captain Wright had Michaels arrested and sent to the grand jury as an accessory in the homicide, based on nothing but suspicion. How did these two enemies become friends? The benefits Michaels received were: He was released on bail, was not indicted, and actually received immunity from the liquor prosecution, in which he was caught red-handed, for he admitted that he had never been tried for that offense."

The petition calls attention to the after-discovered evidence which it is claimed "established beyond all doubt not only the innocence of Hines, but the guilt of Curtis Jenkins, who told his brother, sister-in-law and a friend that he killed Curtis."

—Mrs. P. F. Brightwell, of Hilton Village, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Davis, on Stokes street.

Good Morning Judge!

It was a brief docket which confronted the mayor this morning when he mounted the bench for the usual daily court session. Two minor disturbance cases were heard but neither warranted suspension of fines. Nellie Smith, colored, was put under a recognized bond of $25 for her good behavior, for 90 days. She was charged with raising a disturbance with another negro over a clothes line. She is said to have told her "You are larger than I am but I'll cut you down to my size."

Another minor disturbance case was dismissed.

Smith Bird was fined $1 and costs for "pushing his wife, Daisy Smith, down." The warrant charged assault but the negro admitted that the man only pushed her down.

W. A. Goughgan, charged with speeding, did not answer when his name was called.

George J. Hannithe, convicted several days ago for a violation of the Mapp act, and who appealed his withdrawal from the appeal is now in jail serving a thirty day term. He was also fined $50 and costs. Hannithe's arrest followed the discovery of thirteen gallons of whiskey on his premises on North Main street.

TEN-MINUTE RELIEF FOR INDIGESTION

Indigestion and its attendant ills such as dyspepsia, heart-burn, sour stomach, griping pains, dizziness, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbus, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even such nervous headaches are directly traceable to disorders in the digestive organs and can now be quickly relieved with new cordial called "Anti-Perment," originated by a druggist and recommended by physicians.

The food source before it is fully digested, thus putting into solution toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this, you simply have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Perment.

Anti-Perment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, cleanses and sweetens the bowels, soothes and heals the inflamed intestines and increases the flow of gastric juices, giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Perment from your druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money returned. It will improve your appetite, help better sleep and make you feel better than you ever left in your life.—adv.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity.

The picture which appears here, of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known remedy for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in disease of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow, if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and rashes, eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This Discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and unifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce, Inverness Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, tablets or liquid. Send 10c for trial pkg.—adv.

This proven remedy checks colds before they develop into serious ailments. It soothes tired, scratchy throats, loosens disengaged phlegm and soon breaks up the cold. Now—don't let your cold linger on—ask your druggist for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY
 —a syrup for coughs & colds

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and gives about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with sore throat, tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with cough and you want quick help, try this valuable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 25c boxes of Piney. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, eases throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membrane that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Piney is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best brown mixture of penetrating power, coughs, throat and chest ills.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for 25c boxes of Piney with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Piney Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mrs. Felton, 87, Happy After Short Term In Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Woman's brief dominion in the Senate today ended with a dramatic speech by Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Georgia, the first woman senator, followed by her retirement from the public stage. Tonight she was enroute homeward.

Every wish of the Senate's political pathfinder—to be sworn in and placed legally on the Senate rolls, to answer a Senate roll call and to make a brief address—had been gratified before she left the capital.

"Indeed, I feel like I am the happiest woman in the United States," the 87-year-old lady said, amid the applause among Senators and spectators. In the first address ever made by a woman in the Senate, immediately afterward, her successor, Walter F. George, whose gracious delay in presenting his election credentials had made reception of the woman senator possible, was administered the oath, and Mrs. Felton became a former senator.

Appointed October 3, upon the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson, and sworn in yesterday, her actual Senate service was 22 hours and 25 minutes.

Complete poise and confidence marked Mrs. Felton's address, made from the center aisle. Her voice reached all parts of the chamber without quaver of age or agitation. She spoke extemporaneously, ignoring notes in her hand, and with her quaint humor drew laughs from Senators and a round of applause at the close. She thanked the Senate for a "beautiful and hospitable welcome," and was applauded when she said:

"You can take this remnant of the old South that has never flickered in her patriotism and you can be very well assured that she is not going to disgrace her commission."

In closing she declared that women would bring to the Senate ability, integrity and exalted purposes.

Mrs. Felton witnessed the administration of the oath to Senator George, but stilling declined to offer to accompany him to the rostrum for the ceremony. She remained at the session as a former member until adjournment and left Washington tonight for her Georgia home, refusing to remain in the capital for events planned by her admirers.

Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, today offered a resolution to give Mrs. Felton full pay and perquisites of her term. Because Senate officials, under formal precedents, were unable to pay her for her service after the election of November 7, if the resolution is adopted Mrs. Felton will receive over $1,000 from the government. She has been paid over $500 for salary from her appointment, October 3 to November 7, plus $12.33 per stationery, and $280 for mileage.

These Russian laborers in the medical warehouse of the American Relief Administration, Moscow, do not know the difference between the words "cat" and "dog," written in English. But show them shipping cases marked "quinine 100 bottles—250 pills" or "gauze compresses—1,000" or "thermometers" or "vaccines—500 units," and not only will they recognize them immediately, but will call them out perfectly good English. The Russian checker, who has also learned to read and write these difficult English words, makes the proper entries as they shout them out.

Colonel Henry Beeuwkes, chief of the Medical Division of the A. R. A., whose picture is inset above, has undertaken the distribution of $7,600,000 worth of army and American Red Cross supplies in one of the most far-reaching campaigns in relief history.

Einstein Tests Will Take Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The result of tests of the Einstein theory that the sun attracts or bends the light of nearby planets, through observations of the sun eclipse of September 21, made a scientific expedition in Northwestern Australia, will come only after several months of measurements and calculations.

Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of the expedition, announced today upon his arrival here.

Four cameras using plates seventeen inches square and weighing seven pounds each were utilized both for the test of eclipses and for the photographing of the same sky areas on certain nights in May and June.

A comparison of the two series of photographs of the same sky areas, one without the sun, and the other with the sun in the center of the group, should show whether the sun's influence displayed the star images of September 21 in the manner and to the extent specified by Einstein," Dr. Campbell's statement said.

Eclipse day was the finest and clearest in a series of 21 clear days. Dr. Campbell said. The Greenwich meridian, on Christmas Island, on the hand experienced a cloudy day and got no photographs after preparing for the phenomenon since April.

Efforts to develop the plates at the photographic station of Wollai were balked by clouds of dust arising after the eclipse. Dr. Campbell said. Developments was begun at Bromox a few days later, but observations were halted through the necessity of the expedition continuing on its way home. Dr. Campbell is director of the Lick Observatory, Mount Hamilton, California.

CUNO TAKES OVER GERMAN REINS OF GOVERNMENT

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Chancellor Cuno took over the reins of government this morning despite the fact that the first day of his administration was a holiday and devoted the day to installing himself in the chancellery's palace and conducting internal conferences with his ministers.

No reply has yet been received from the foreign portfolio, who is on his way to Berlin from Copenhagen. Rudolph Czer, Democratic leader and former minister of transportation in Prussia, has formally advised the emperor of his resignation as head of the ministry of the interior. The with the possible exception of the foreign minister the new cabinet will be able to make its first appearance in the Reichstag Friday when the emperor will read the government program.

Indications tonight point to the probability that the new government program will be widely based on the minister's note to the Reichstag, in which Cuno has said that the government will receive the approval of the constituent parties and of the German people.

The new cabinet will be sworn in with the formality of a solemn ceremony of confidence.

Doctor Declares Famine's Aftermath Must Be Wiped Out If Russia's Millions Saved By American Charity Are To Live

Russian Laborers Loading American Medical Supplies at Moscow For Distribution In Petrograd District. Inset: Col. Henry Beeuwkes, U. S. A. Chief, Medical Division, Russian Unit, A. R. A.

Cholera, typhoid, small-pox and tropical malaria—all of which annually exact a heavy toll of human lives in Russia—are being fought by an efficient corps of American medical personnel, assisted by hundreds of skilled Russian physicians. Ten million Russians have been inoculated against these diseases.

The aftermath of famine is the menace against which relief workers are fighting, according to Dr. Beeuwkes. Starvation and undernourishment have left the majority of the stricken sufferers in a precarious physical state and unless disease epidemics are stamped out the mortality rate this winter will be high, especially among those whom the A. R. A. has rescued from starvation.

In addition to its disease prevention campaign the Russian unit of the American Relief Administration, under the leadership of Colonel William N. Haskell, will continue to feed 1,300,000 children throughout the approaching winter. A few adults, including nursing mothers and hospital patients, will also be cared for with American food, but the nation-wide feeding program which on September 1st embraced 10,500,000 persons has been discontinued with the new harvest.

The famine itself has been broken but the A. R. A., recognizing the suffering that will exist this winter, especially among doctors, nurses, teachers, and other professional classes, has continued the Food Remittance system. Money, the New York headquarters of the A. R. A., and applied either to general relief or, at the request of the sender, be transferred in the form of food to designated persons or groups in Russia.

Powers Against Turkey in the Thracian Issue

LAUSANNE, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—Turkey found the great powers of Europe arrayed against her today on the question of western Thrace on which she demands a plebiscite, and Greece, helped and beaten by the armies of the Ottoman State, left a rather heated afternoon session of the Near Eastern conference with the feeling that she is not so abandoned as she feared.

The Turkish plenipotentiaries returned to their hotel looking dejected. One of them said:

"They were all against us on the Thracian issue today, but it is not yet decided, we shall probably have something more to say tomorrow."

The Bulgarian premier, Alexander Stambouliski, explained Bulgaria's need for an outlet to the Aegean Sea at Delegation, already promised by treaty.

Greece has admitted her obligation to grant Bulgaria port rights at Delegation, but has explained that her war with Turkey prevented realization until now. Stambouliski was inclined to support the idea of making western Thrace autonomous, but the trend of the allied leaders' speeches was opposed to this. While hostile to a plebiscite, the Entente spokesmen favored demilitarization of a considerable zone on the right bank of the Maritza River, which divides western from eastern Thrace, so that danger of an armed conflict between Greece and the Turks in the future would be lessened.

The former Grecian Eucherios Venizelos was at his best in defending the interests of his country. He frankly admitted that Greece had made mistakes, and that she had suffered severely as a consequence of these mistakes.

The burden of the Turks' arguments was that possession of both eastern and western Thrace was necessary to Constantinople safe for Turkey and to prevent incursions into Turkey territory.

First Important Phases Of Murder Trial Are Ended

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—The first two important phases of the Hall-Mills murder case were practically finished tonight when the grand jury which had been listening to evidence since Monday adjourned after deciding not to reconvene until next Monday.

Special Prosecutor Wilbur A. Mott had shown how the bodies were found. He had established to the best of his ability—barring the testimony of two additional witnesses—what he considered the motive. There remained tonight only the testimony of the two prime witnesses and the story of the crime, the eye-witness story to be told by Mrs. James Gibson, the hard-working farm woman, who said she saw the shooting.

Only thirteen witnesses were called today, but all of them were of the first importance. Nellie Le Russell, neeess, was among the first called. She told reporters after her twenty minutes inside the room that she had "told the same story I told you."

George Sipel, another pit raiser, was among the second witnesses. The two Hall maids, Barbara Tough and Louise Geist, were not called today. They spent their time in the witness room. Louise read, Barbara knitted. Between times both talked to state troopers or to Charlotte Mills.

Charlotte was called and was in the jury room half an hour. She was more reticent than usual when she came out, but it was learned from official sources that most of the thirty minutes were devoted to an explanation of the manner in which her mother's private letters came to be sold to a newspaper.

As soon as Charlotte left, James Mills was asked to go in. He spent an hour and an hour in the witness room, and was the thirteenth witness of the day. Mills left the jury room pale and apparently weak.

Captain Michael Regan, friend of William Stevens, Mrs. Hall's eccentric brother, also was a witness. Regan was sitting in the fire house on the Saturday several hours before the two bodies were found.

"While I am excited," Regan told reporters, and said, according to the fire captain, "a shocking terrible has happened at our house. You'll hear all about it soon."

Mrs. Emma Voorhees, who has been a mystery witness, Miss Katharine Larkin, her daughter, and Signe Smith, a grave digger, gave their testimony during the morning. All of them said they had heard shots on the night of the murders.

After them Harry McCabe, bridge tender, was called. McCabe said he had heard shots while he was sitting on the porch of his home the night of September 14.

Herman Tingle, who lives near the Phillips farm, told of hearing shots about 10 o'clock.

NEGRO RELIGIOUS WORK ADVANCES

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 22.—More has been accomplished in the last three years for the advancement of the negroes in America, upon which the Board of Education for Negroes of the Methodist Episcopal church has expended $200,000 during this time, than during any other period in the history of the race. According to Dr. I. Garland Penn, one of the corresponding secretaries of the board.

The money expended by the board has been used in erecting new buildings, in purchasing automobiles, in buying land, in purchasing and equipping, he said.

"I have nothing to say about the situation in the south," Penn said, "but I have been to the board and have seen the progress that has been made in the last three years. It is a remarkable advance, and it is the result of the work of the board."

Dr. Penn said that the board has been successful in securing the cooperation of the white people in the south, and that the negroes are now being educated in the same schools as the white people. He said that the board has also been successful in securing the cooperation of the white people in the north, and that the negroes are now being educated in the same schools as the white people.

MRS. BRITTON ON NINTH DAY OF HUNGER STRIKE

SKOWHAGAN, Maine, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Louis Britton, of Skowhagan, now on the ninth day of a "hunger strike" under taken in the expressed hope of regaining her husband's affections, resisted the efforts of neighbors today to induce her to break her fast. Many persons called during the day at the farm house where the woman lives alone, but Mrs. Britton refused all their suggestions.

On an adjoining farm, her husband, whose action in starting divorce proceedings, led Mrs. Britton to begin her "strike," continued to refuse his wife's course. He said his attorney would answer all proper questions.

The farm house without heat in the early days of the hunger strike was warm today. Neighbors tended the fire in a stove, although at first Mrs. Britton had rejected this service, planning to go without heat as well as food. Neighbors also have arranged that Mrs. Britton will not be alone at night while her hunger strike lasts.

After a visit to the farm yesterday by town officials it was proposed that a sanity test be applied to Mrs. Britton. No definite move towards this was made today.

TIRE HURLED BY AUTO CIRCLES FARMER'S NECK

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 22.—An unidentified motorist pitched a ringer with an automobile tire near here recently and Frank Kane, a farmer, has the evidence.

Kane was picking up corn in a field near the roadside when something struck him. Looking up he found an automobile tire coming his way. It had been thrown by a machine which was fast disappearing up the road.

VIRGINIAN TRIES TO END LIFE IN GREENSBORO

GREENSBORO, Nov. 22.—F. V. Wrenn, of Herndon, Virginia, attempted to take his own life about one o'clock this morning, when he slashed his throat with a razor in his room at the O'Henry Hotel. He is now a patient at St. Leo Hospital in this city and is expected to recover.

GIRLS Shine your own shoes

A GIRL'S clothes may be modish and attractive. But if her shoes are soiled, dull or discolored, they detract greatly from her appearance—and somewhat from her charm.

NU-SHINE makes it easy for every girl to have well-polished shoes at all times—and to shine them herself in a clean, quick, easy way.

NU-SHINE is applied with a dauber. It dries almost immediately—one shoe is dry before the second is finished. Then just a rub or two with cloth or brush gives a truly wonderful polish. Just a couple of minutes, that's all.

And NU-SHINE need only be used about once every seven days. For a NU-SHINE shoeshine lasts at least a week. A few rubs with a cloth bring back the rich lustre to your shoes for six days after an application of NU-SHINE.

There are over 50 shines in every bottle of NU-SHINE, and each shine is good for a week's active service. NU-SHINE costs only 25c—it is truly economical.

NU-SHINE makes your shoes wear longer. It is a wonderful leather preservative. It quickly hides scuffed toes. And it comes in all colors for all shades of leather. Buy NU-SHINE in Black, Cordovan, Nut Brown, Light Tan, White Kid and White Canvas. Be sure you get genuine NU-SHINE. Ask for it by name. Buy it at shoe, drug, grocery and department stores and at shoe repair shops. Buy a bottle to-day.

Bandit Army In March Of Death

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22.—The bandit army of Honan province, 30,000 strong, which has kidnapped a number of foreign missionaries recently, is laying waste a path six miles wide across the province, burning every town and farm house in its way of march, and leaving its trail strewn with dead bodies, according to a letter received here from H. E. Ledgard, an English missionary, who escaped.

"The bandit army," said Ledgard's letter, "is made up mostly of disbanded troops, the majority of them well mounted and well armed. It totals probably 30,000 men.

"They march over the countryside spread across a route six miles wide, lighting their way at night by burning farm houses. Every city and town through which they pass is burned and looted. Thousands of men, women and children are being carried away. Some of these have been ransomed, but many have been cruelly shot. Our road was strewn with bodies.

"On November 10 the bandits encountered and overpowered a force of Government troops near Chumai.

"At the time I made my escape, the bandits were holding captive six foreign adults and one child, seven in all, of whom four were Americans, two were French and one an Italian priest.

Ledgard's letter, written from Yencheng, Province of Honan, describing his experience, dated the morning of October 28. I was awakened by rifle firing nearby. The doors of our houses were burst in, and a band of outlaws, with rifles leveled, took possession of our home. They helped themselves to everything, even my wife's wedding ring, remaining all that day and part of the following.

"They compelled my wife to play the organ to amuse them in the rests they took while burning and looting the town (Shantsuhsien). Two American Lutheran missionaries, Rev. C. A. Forsberg and Rev. Anton Lundeen, were brought in by the outlaws and told us they had been captured two weeks previously at Yuchow Ho, where their mission had been looted. They paid their wives also had been carried off but later released.

"I was informed also that two French railway men had been taken prisoners 20 days before and were being held.

"On Sunday afternoon the bandits ordered me to mount at a moment's notice, despite my wife's pleadings that I be permitted to remain with her. We traveled all night and arrived at Shang Shuehsien in the morning. The town already had been captured and given to the flames.

"In the next few days the bandits captured, sacked and burned the towns of Sengchunhsien and Ingchow-fu, in Anwei province. I saw Madame and Miss Soderstrom for a few minutes at Sengchunhsien. They told me they had been captured when their mission was destroyed a few days previously.

Ledgard then described the forced march across country which eventually resulted in his horse giving out, and the captive, with a single guard, was left far in the rear of the outlaw army. At Hsien, where he found in ashes, he was told of the capture of another American missionary, Rev. Enar Berg Breen, and his son Rolfe, 5 year-old.

At this time Ledgard and his guard were far behind the main band, and while passing through Hsienhsien a mob of residents, whose property

NEW INDUSTRIAL LAW PLANNED FOR KANSAS

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 22.—The eyes of the industrial world will turn westward next January and focus on Topeka, where the Kansas Legislature will decide whether Governor Henry J. Allen's industrial court law, designed to settle all disputes between labor and capital, shall live or die.

One of the outcome of the battle on the floor of the Assembly will depend the future existence of the law, called by its opponents the "idealism of a dreamer" and by its advocates the solution of industrial differences.

Jonathan M. Davis, Democrat, self-styled "dirt farmer" and Governor-elect of Kansas, will seek to carry out his pre-election promises to have the law repealed. Governor Allen, although he will be out of office, is expected to throw the entire weight of his influence against wiping his favorite hobby from the statute books.

"One of my first acts as the Chief Executive of Kansas will be to advocate the repeal of the Kansas Industrial Court law and to substitute a less expensive and more effective weapon for settling industrial disputes," Davis has declared.

Whether Davis, the lone Democratic star in a firmament of Republicanism, will be able to control enough votes to secure the repeal of the law is doubted by the politicians. Nevertheless, Davis, elected on a platform pledging himself to repeal the law which brought him the almost solid support of labor in the state, will try to flush with victory by a substantial plurality in an ordinarily rock-ribbed Republican State on a day when the entire remainder of the Republican State ticket was elected and attributing his success in no small measure to his stand in opposition to the Industrial Court law, Davis's fight to secure its repeal is expected to be spectacular.

While Davis's opposition to the Industrial Court law has been consistent and intense—and to this he credits in great measure his election—Republicans claim that it played only a small part in his election.

4 MORE BODIES BE EXAMINED

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Four more bodies are to be exhumed and examined for traces of poison, Coroner Peter M. Hoffman announced today in connection with the investigation of the mysterious deaths of a score of relatives, former husbands and acquaintances of Mrs. Till Klineck, the wife of the late Mrs. Sturmer Klineck. The two women, have been indicted jointly in connection with the death of a former husband of each and a coroner's chemist has announced the finding of poison in the bodies of two other relatives.

Examination of other exhumed bodies is in progress. Coroner Hoffman made the announcement today following receipt of a letter from Joseph Vozneski, of Lawrence, Ill., in which he said his brother, Mathias, who was married to Mrs. Klineck, had died in 1914 after drinking beer given him by his wife.

FINGERS OF GRIEF-STRICKEN MUTE MAY SEND FATHER TO HIS DEATH

ALBERT DINELLA AND, INSET HIS FATHER, ANTONIO DINELLA

By NEA Service.

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Nov. 23.—On the fingers of 14-year-old Albert Dinella rests the fate of his father Antonio, who is awaiting trial here for the death of his two daughters.

For from these fingers will be made known the result of a test of strength between love of parent and grief over the love of a life-long helper and companion, according to prosecuting officials.

When the case comes up in the Wyandotte county district court, in the term opening Dec. 4, the tale of a harrowing double murder is expected to come from these fingers.

For Albert can neither speak nor hear, and it is on the sign language of the deaf-mute boy that authorities will depend for the conviction—or acquittal—of his father.

"What secret do these fingers hold?" Will the boy be his father's Nemesis or will he save his father from the gallows?

Prosecuting attorneys and police believe the boy will be a favorable witness for the prosecution if he knows his father is guilty. For they point to the fact that Albert's life-long and most cherished playmate was one of the victims for whose death Antonio Dinella will be tried.

Helen, twin sister of Albert, had been the voice and ears of her brother—until one day last September when her body, hacked and mutilated almost beyond recognition, was found in a sack on a bank of the Kaw River.

Only two days before, the headless body of the other sister, Florence, had been picked up by police under similar circumstances.

Investigation by authorities led them to the crude shack of the child's father on the bank of the Kaw River near where it empties

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtful parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury will salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, and thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting anise, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone can take?" The answer is when you consider I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin to any family who writes me and sends a letter. Write me where to send it. Address: Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Mrs. A. Arceneux of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. Gus Anderson of Ball, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

STERN WARNING TO KEMALISTS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press).—Lieutenant General Harington, commander of the allied forces has issued a stern warning to the Kemalists that any further encroachments upon Constantinople would be at their peril.

Addressing a large gathering assembled to witness boxing matches between British sailors and soldiers at the auditorium of the British headquarters, he declared that the allied forces in Constantinople were a rock marked danger upon which the Turks would wreck themselves if they persisted in trying the patience of the allies.

"The allies are very conciliatory," very patient he said, "they have exercised great forbearance and restraint. Our ministers have come to Lausanne with the same spirit of conciliation, justice and fairness. They are, however, human and there is a limit to human nature. Those who try to exceed that limit play with fire; they will be advised by the referee to break away."

STATE ATTORNEY OF CAMPBELL HAS RESIGNED

LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 22.—A. H. Light, commonwealth's attorney for Campbell County, today resigned his office, effective immediately following adverse verdicts in Circuit Court, charging the taking of fees unlawfully.

One of the cases tried today involved the payment of a fee of $100 to the commonwealth's attorney by J. C. Smart, a private expert for prosecuting a pending proceeding against Magistrate John W. Fortune of Campbell County. Two other civil suits were compromised.

A successor to fill the unexpired term of Commonwealth's Attorney Light will be appointed by the judge of the Circuit Court.

SPEEDERS TAKEN TO SEE BODIES OF THE VICTIMS

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 22.—In a patrol wagon that clanked its going with the slow regularity of a funeral bell, seven men convicted as automobile speeders were taken today to the county morgue to view the bodies of three persons killed by motor cars.

The first to the morgue was ordered by Judge Charles J. Burdett who in furthering the state's case against the speeders, last week took a party to a hospital to view victims of less serious accidents. None of the seven in today's party had any connection with the incidents that resulted in the deaths of the three whose bodies they saw.

At the morgue Judge Burdett delivered a sharp denunciation of reckless motorists. The seven men taken were then sent to jail to serve sentences of from one to ten days in addition to paying fines ranging from $50 to $100.

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weak and at times was obliged to stay in my bed. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

THE ONE-MAN CAR PROPOSITION

Will be considered by the City Council at a Special Session on Thursday, November 23rd at 8 p. m. We hope every Councilman will be in his seat and we invite every citizen who is opposed to or does not understand the proposition to be present and hear our side of the question. Let's get together and arrange to give Danville the best street car system possible.

Danville Gets Thanksgiving Football Game

Through the efforts of a group of public spirited football fans Danville is to have a football game on Thanksgiving Day between the Danville High School team and the eleven of the Chatham Training School. Arrangements for the game were completed last night and today the local team will begin practice for the game, which will be one of the hardest of the season.

Everything would indicate that the two teams are about equally matched. Danville has a High School team of which the city may well be proud. Its record this year has been splendid. It is a rather interesting fact that it did not get into the State championship series. On the other hand Chatham Training School as a strong eleven and also has an enviable record.

All of which goes to prove that Danville football fans are promised a real "Turkey Day" contest.

Out-of-town officials are to be secured for the contest, the field is to be roped off and Danville and Chatham adherents to be given opposite sides of the field—in fact, every precaution is to be taken to insure sportsmanlike contest, in which the result of the game will show conclusively which is the better team.

INITIAL STEPS FOR U. S. TEAMS PART IN OLYMPIC GAMES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press)—Initial steps for the participation of American teams in the Olympic games of 1924 to be held in Paris, were completed here today at the quadrennial meeting of the American Olympic Association. During the two sessions of the sixty-day delegates, the American Olympic committee which will hereafter carry the burden of preparation was appointed, five new sport governing bodies accepted into the membership, funds amounting to $7,500 donated and the delegates received by President Harding at the White House.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shields, formerly Miss D'Etta Talbott left last night for New York.

COACH ROPER HAS UNIQUE GRID THEORIES

Coach Bill Roper of Princeton has some peculiar theories on football, yet they have been mighty successful. One of his pet hobbies is that a player should never fall on a loose ball, and run with it.

The history of the gridiron has proved that the Roper theory in this respect is a mighty good one. Princeton beat Chicago and Harvard by grabbing a loose ball and running with it.

"An Interferer never looks back." That is another Roper truth that is painted on a sign in the Princeton club house. It is in a spot where it can't be missed as the players file in and out of the dressing-room.

It is a rather interesting fact that it is a failure to observe that truth resulted in a Princeton victory and a Harvard defeat in the recent game between the two teams.

George Owen, the Harvard back, after a run of 35 yards and a clear field, was tripped by one of his interferers who looked around.

It is a cinch that Coach Roper has called the attention of the Princeton players to that happening many a time since the Harvard game.

KING COLLEGE ADDS FURTHER TO TOTAL POINTS

BRISTOL, Tenn., Nov. 22.—The King College football team, dubbed the "Mountain Tornado," increased their total of points rolled up this season to 67 in the game with East Tennessee Normal School at Johnson City today. Six to 0, most of these being in the first half while the team was in the line up. Osborn, a quarterback, caught the first kick off on the ten yard line and ran through a broken field for the first touchdown in fifteen seconds.

King has played seven games to date, having had two games cancelled by weaker teams, and has scored an average of 66.7 points a game. Forty eight points have been scored by opponents, which includes V. P. I. They close the season on Thanksgiving Day with Maryville College. The team is coached by A. L. Vanderhoof, a former star of Case of Cleveland, Ohio.

Romance of a Horse

Not long ago Major J. A. Barry (above) found this horse, Sutmersable, as a worn-out plug pulling a laundry wagon in Fort Riley, Kas. Since then Sutmersable has won seven blue ribbons at horse shows. Hear that horse-laughs?

RUTH'S RECORD THIS SEASON WAS NOT BAD

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Before the worthy Mr. Ruth sinks for the third and last time into temporary oblivion down on the farm, it might not be at all amiss to state that our dear old fat friend was made the victim of a fallacious generalization. This much to give the gentleman his dues.

It was openly charged and generally accepted as fact that Ruth was a "bust" in home run hitting, the fact being based on the fact that he hit only 35 homers against 59 in 1921. The fact of the matter is that Ruth enjoyed almost as much success in hitting home runs last season as he ever did before.

Where he was a distinct "bust" was in his gratuitous misbehavior on the ball field, his lack of condition, his failure to hold up in his 1921 form and his lack of consistency in hitting.

So far as home runs were concerned, he was a "bust" in 1921, hitting only 35 homers against 59 in 1921. The fact of the matter is that Ruth enjoyed almost as much success in hitting home runs last season as he ever did before.

What was really missing and what made Ruth a pronounced failure in the world series was his inability to come through with ordinary base hits, swinging from his shoelaces at all times. It was either a case of a home run or a strike out. Unfortunately, it was mostly the latter in the big series. In fact, he got only two hits in five games, and neither of them bore even a faint resemblance to a home run.

Had he driven out a single or a double in an occasional pinch his failure to hit them out of the park might have been, remarked upon, but the effect would have been negligible. The essence of the whole proposition is that too much emphasis was laid upon Ruth's ability to hit them home. Unquestionably his home runs drove in many tallies and won quite a few ball games, but Ruth's real value to the team lay in his measure to the opposing defense, and in the fact that he was a 200 hitter. This latter meant that he was cutting off a few singles and doubles of no doubtful value.

Last season his average fell off considerably—much more so, in fact, than his comparative dearth of homers, for which he was roundly reviled. His hitting, likewise, suffered a bad rally, as the fellow said.

These defections cost the Yankees more heavily than the mere difference involved in the matter of whether he smote one homer in every 2.59 games or one for every 3.14 games.

BOXING CODE IS LAX IN REGARD TO TITLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—While the action of the New York State Boxing Commission in declaring a number of titles void has been much ridiculed, it is becoming more apparent that at least a step has been made in the right direction.

While the Marquis of Queensbury rule, the governing game very thoroughly, it seems that the code would have been more complete had it contained some definite word as to the defending of their titles by the champions of the various classes. It doesn't seem fair to the logical contenders for the various titles to have some veteran holder of a championship put his title in jeopardy and practically refuse to defend it in a decision bout unless given most of the loose money available.

There certainly should be a definite ruling as to how often a champion should defend his title during the course of a year. It seems that he should take a chance in a decision bout at least once every six months.

The case of Champion Johnny Kilbane of the featherweight division is the most glaring example of how this condition is abused. Kilbane absolutely refuses to defend his title unless guaranteed a sum that is out of proportion with his drawing possibilities. The promoters are entitled to a good cut and the challenger a fair sum, but the demands made by Kilbane make such a thing out of the question.

Fight fans are a bit tired of conditions in several classes, notably the middleweight and featherweight. Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane are anything but popular with the followers of the ring game at the time simply because of the safety-first tactics employed.

U. S. S. RELIEF TEAM WINS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The football team of the U. S. S. Relief team defeated the U. S. S. Relief team in the semi-final match for the Atlantic Fleet championship at the Navy Yard by the score of 1 to 0. The Relief team will play the winner of the Delaware-Bright game which will be played in Florida Thanksgiving Day.

SCHEDULE OF W. L. BASKETBALL TEAM

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 22.—The schedule of Washington and Lee University Basketball team for the season has just been announced. It includes 16 games, eight of which will be played in the Doremus Gymnasium at Lexington.

The schedule follows: At Lexington—January 9, Washington College; January 12, Lynchburg College; January 20, Roanoke College; January 27, V. P. I.; January 30, University of N. C.; February 1, University of Virginia; February 13, University 13; February 15, George Washington University.

At Huntington, W. Va., February 3, West Virginia. At Washington, Pennsylvania, February 5, Washington and Jefferson. At Pittsburgh, Pa., February 6, Carnegie Tech. At Pittsburgh, Pa., February 7, University of Pittsburgh. At Washington, February 10, West Virginia. At Blacksburg, Va., February 17, V. P. I. At Charlottesville, Va., February 24, University of Virginia. February 26, open.

PRANT WINS THE DERBY STAKE

TOAN, Va., Nov. 22.—Prant, a white and black hound owned by L. T. Richardson, of Toan, today won the derby stake of the Virginia Fox Hunting Association, defeating thirty three of the crack hounds of the state. Second place went to fashion, owned by E. L. Pritchett, of Warlow, Va. Blue Jack, owned by Dr. F. A. Sinclair, of Newport News, was third, and China Girl, owned by Dr. S. D. Ellis, of Wake Field, was fourth.

The chase started at 1 o'clock and continued for more than three hours. It was one of the most thrilling and gripping chases ever witnessed on the Virginia peninsula. The flying hounds, their heads up, fully tested the foam of the riders' steeds. The riding was fast and furious, the brush being captured by Dr. J. D. Penneyhough, who preceded it to Mrs. Thraves, of Amelia, the first woman rider to get to the kill.

NEW YORK IS ALL RIGHT WITH EDDIE COLLINS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The stories that Eddie Collins, the crack second baseman of the Chicago White Sox, will be with the New York Americans next year will not down. Collins, who winters in one of the suburbs of Philadelphia, was asked what he knew about it.

"All that I know of the reported deal that is to take me to New York is what I have read in the papers," he replied.

"Would you like to play there?" was the next question put to him.

"Most any player would welcome a chance to go to New York. The Chicago fans have always treated me great and I like the city, but I certainly wouldn't offer any objections if the Sox decided to send me to New York."

"Funny thing, but from the very first day I broke into major league ball I cherished a desire to wear a New York uniform. Perhaps it was because I made my baseball start at Columbia, which is located in that city."

The financial possibilities in New York appeal to the player. New York draws the big crowds and can pay the farce salaries if they want a man. Then there is the world series to shoot at. As New York has won two pennants and despite all the criticism that has been hurled at the Yankee club because of its poor showing in the series, it still is a mighty tough team to beat over the long route."

N. C. TO OBSERVE RECENT RULING

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 22.—The faculty committee on athletics of the University of North Carolina today decided to observe the recent ruling of the Southern Intercollegiate Association against post season football games.

This decision to abide by the rule established by association probably will cause the dropping of the projected post season game between the University of North Carolina and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

FINAL ROUND TODAY

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 22.—James J. Barrow, of Youngstown, and Edward J. Barrow, of New York, will meet here tomorrow in the final round of the annual Carolina Tournament as a result of a draw today won out. As the semi-final fight Barrow defeated Thomas J. Gray of Youngstown, 7 up and 5, while Barrow defeated W. E. Wells of Oakland at the 12th hole.

Farical Dry Laws a Menace

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—A campaign designed to show that "the evils which have accompanied Volsteadism are endangering our national life" was launched this afternoon by the Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment, at the concluding session of a two-day meeting here.

The association issued a statement alleging that "the general crime wave, which is rapidly spreading throughout the country is, in a large measure, due to the lawless conditions created by the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act." The association emphasized again that it is opposed to the saloon as formerly constituted.

Declaring the results of the recent election form a strong indication that public sentiment favors repeal of the Volstead act, a score of State secretaries of the association today perfected plans for modification of the dry enforcement law and for the eventual repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

Resolutions providing for the working out of a plan for dispensing alcoholic beverages under the regulation of States, and others of bills were prepared for submission to the conference, which met in public session.

Although the association was formed for the special purpose of opposing repeal of the prohibition act, its executive committee has adopted a resolution opposing the restoration of saloons in the event manufacture and sale of light wines and beer is permitted.

All of the delegates expressed jubilation over what they declare were overwhelming victories for the "wet" forces in the recent elections, and said they do not intend to affiliate with either the Democratic or Republican parties at present. Establishment of a magazine as the official organ of the association is under consideration.

W. H. Stayton, general director of the association, said Congressman Hill, of Maryland, and Senator-elect Edwards, of New Jersey, would be spokesmen for the association in the House and Senate.

He asserted that the body has 457,000 members and is in a gold condition financially.

He said no contributions were accepted from interests formerly interested in the liquor trade. Most of the funds for the organization, explained, are raised by membership of $1 each.

ENGLISH PEERESS OPPOSES POLITICS FOR WOMEN

LONDON, Nov. 22.—"I really don't think that women should be in Parliament at all," said the Marchioness of Townshend in an interview.

"This is not, of course, because I think that a woman, by doing so, neglects her home and her children, but because I feel that women in Parliament would be far too apt to concentrate on home affairs and the concerns of women and children—to take to the parochial instead of a national attitude."

"That is why I shall not attempt election to Parliament, but will confine my political activities to the local side, although I shall do some public speaking."

"One of women's greatest political faults in the past has been that they have continually spoken as though men with wives and children of their own—to say nothing of mothers and sisters—were active enemies of our sex. That is one of the greatest mistakes ever made."

And another difficulty about women in Parliament is the trouble in getting the right type of woman to stand for election. We don't want to have nothing but spinsters, who, however clever, haven't the broad sympathies and understanding of the best type of married women. Neither do we want the embittered woman who turns from disappointment in her married life to find solace in public service.

"But so far as I understand the women in England, outside the big cities, seem to take no interest in politics at all. That is a pity and I think women enthusiasts should agitate with all their might to make women as keen on political affairs as men."

"That is why I am about to begin a new type of political entertaining. I want to get together all sorts of people—actors and actresses, as well as average men and women—and the few people who are actively interested in politics, and then set them all talking. There will be no platitudes or long-winded speeches, but just a few facts set out clearly for discussion."

"I may be accused of trying to revive backstairs influence and petticoat government, but that doesn't matter. So long as I can arouse a political and municipal conscience in women I shall be satisfied."

"Once we can get women interested in public service and convince them that this is the duty of every citizen that we will quickly educate my sex to a sane and lively interest in the great subjects of national and world politics."

The Marchioness of Townshend, apart from being one of the most beautiful women in England, is a distinguished playwright and author, and is a leader in the highest social sets.

GEORGE BLOW DIES

YORKTOWN, Nov. 22.—George Blow, son of the late Judge George Blow, of Norfolk, who owns the old Nelson home here, died Monday at the Wardman Park Hotel, Washington.

Mr. Blow was a brother of the late Almond Blow, of Gloucester County, Va.; Mrs. William Byrd Page, of Richmond; the late Mrs. Edwin Hoff, of Richmond, and Mrs. Atkins, of Baltimore. He was also the first cousin of the late Mrs. James W. Pegram, of Richmond.

BUSTED—LIKE ROBINSON

PARIS, Nov. 22.—A millionaire boxer was "busted" by the Rue Auber recently. Gaston Fournel, 37 years old, was found loitering on the street corner. Arrested and searched at the police station he had 60,000 francs in bonds, 1,800 francs in gold, three gold watches, eighteen diamond rings, eight diamond earrings and a check book. The poor destitute wayfarer was returned by the police.

REFUSE TO ENTER RING

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 22.—Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, and Young Montreal refused to enter the ring here tonight for a scheduled round bout, when the club seeking their bout announced their guarantee could not be met, owing to small attendance.

TO TRAIN IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The New York American Baseball Club announced today the team again would train in New Orleans next spring, reporting there March 10, a week later than usual. The players will remain in New Orleans until April 1.

Big Business Is Taking Farmer
In Partnership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The day when American farm products will be as extensively advertised throughout the country as the automobile and other manufactured articles will soon arrive. Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College, declared today before the Washington Ad Club.

"The American farmer has been acquainted with only one sort of advertising business," he said. "In the main, he thinks of advertising as a more or less tricky device employed by middlemen to separate him from his money. He probably has some what the same opinion of advertising as a target has of rifle practice."

"The signs of the times, however, are pointing in another direction. Bankers and members of the boards of commerce have begun to ask the farmer, in as a business partner. They are seeing that they must help him earn more money, and they are beginning to see that he needs help recipally with his marketing and selling."

The selling end of the farmer's business has been badly and most unfortunately neglected. Circumstances are to blame in part, he is to blame in part. In a certain sense, advertising men are much to blame. Problems in marketing, advertising and selling that need solution much more than many which have been solved, have been neglected.

Agricultural men of America have begun to concern themselves with the selling end of their business. They have begun to learn to sell co-operatively to organize and to respect their organization. The next generation of farmers is going to grow up already sold to the idea of organization.

Anglo-Saxon Unity
Vital, Says Former
U. S. Ambassador

John W. Davis, former United States Ambassador to Great Britain, pleads in the November issue of "Our World" for complete understanding between the great English-speaking nations. We have given back to England many progressive institutions. In exchange for the blood and traditions she gave us, he holds, but the important point is to keep the spiritual unity of the two peoples. Mr. Davis believes this one of the most important world problems.

Whose?

Here is little "John Doe," about two and a half years old, who is unclaimed in New York after a Pullman trip from Shreveport, La. ANTI-WAR MEET AT THE HAGUE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—An invitation to participate with the International Federation of the American organization authorized a response declaring the unwillingness of labor unions in the United States to commit themselves to an international general strike in case of any declaration of war, whether defensive or not. It is a denunciation of national unity to seek nationalization of wealth, or to encourage a gathering were the trend of discussion had been set down in advance.

NEW STYLES IN UNDERWEAR, TOO

A new silhouette for wraps and dresses means new lines for underwear as well. The costume slips have already shown that with the low waistline and blousé bodies. Just now the combination seems to be more in demand than the two-piece sets, but it is a combination according to other latest fashions and is slightly bloused or fitted at the waist and made with step-in drawers. Drawers are the favored sleepwear and are shown with barefoot, shaped and round necklines. Nightgowns are showing deep bertha collars of lace. All underwear is trimmed with more lace and embroidery than has been popular lately—the value for costume blouses is doing away with tailored undergarments in favor of trims.

Woman Led Pirate Gang That Looted British Ship

HONG KONG, Nov. 22.—Stories of a female pirate leader and her desperate band of Chinese buccanniers who yesterday looted the British steamer Albatross, celebrating the crew after a summary battle and then escaped with all the cash and valuables on board, were related by passengers aboard the vessel.

Throughout the pirate adventure, the woman leader is said to have calmly directed the movements of her band. She was wounded, as were two other buccanniers, when the passengers and crew gave battle. Two of the ship's crew were killed and several wounded.

The pirates, said to number about 20, boarded the steamer. When a gun battle on the board seized the ship and quickly overpowered the passengers and crew.

SCHOOL PATROLS ARE MAKING GOOD MEN

MAJOR JOHN BAUDER

By ROY GIBBONS

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Major John Bauder is the man directly in charge of Chicago's Boy Safety Patrol. This organization, composed entirely of grammar school pupils, all below the age of 14, which has been reducing the number of fatal accidents to public school children in the city for more than a year.

Believing that the idea as established here might be of service to Danville, he has told through NEA Service just how the organization was perfected, and with what success its efforts are meeting.

"We practically whipped Chicago's patrol into shape in a day," Bauder says. "Efforts of the mayor and School Board officials paved the way. Makes Better Citizens."

"Boys leap at the chance to serve as officers. We have never had any difficulty in supplying the full quota of patrolmen for any school."

Besides saving the members of the patrol go into their home communities as small right arms of the law. They instill a high regard for constituted authority among their playmates.

"The effect of the organization is most wholesome. In fact I believe it is paving the way for a better generation of boyhood in Chicago."

"Before any boy is sworn in as a safety patrolman he fills out a pledge card, promising to live morally and mentally clean, and to serve as an example for the rest of his playmates to pattern after."

He pledges himself to be brave and manly, and above all, watchful for the safety of his playmates and other children at all times.

"Autos in the city, too, have been co-operative. Through educational campaigns, all auto drivers have been instructed to obey the directions of the patrol at school street crossings. We have very few complaints of violations."

"All that is necessary it seems, is to put the thing into operation. From then on it works automatically, providing you have the right sort of boys, and instruct them properly."

"Save City Money."

"I have found no inclination on the part of any Safety Patrol member to abuse the authority vested in him. Nor have I heard of any complaints that such officers have annoyed motorists with unnecessary halting and blocking of traffic."

"The whole key to the situation seems to be in reaching the boy's heart. Make him feel that the badge given him by the city marks him out as a moral and physical example for the rest of his comrades, and you have started a real man to the top of your civic ladder."

"We here in Chicago would not and could not get along without our Safety Patrol boys. They have saved the city thousands of dollars and almost 200 lives in scarcely over one year."

"In addition, the Safety Patrol with its 3,000 members constitution just that many emissaries for clean living, who daily come in contact with future citizens of the city."

"What better results could we hoped for? We are making men."

Valuable Jewels Strangely Lost

Taxicab Drive Figures in Difficult Problem for New York Police.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The proper combination of circumstances occurred—each circumstance innocent of connection with any other—and $5,000 worth of family jewelry, prized at many times its market value, passed unnoticed out of the keeping of a French maid named Marie, of long service and impeccable character, at the front door of the St. Regis Hotel.

Miss Helen Clark, of the Clark family of Chicago and Washington, has offered a liberal reward for the return of the jewelry—principally for a pearl necklace, a ring and a bracelet, given her by her mother.

The maid Marie says in anguish, partly in French, partly in English, "Announce how I suffer. Perhaps some one who has the jewels of madame will return with them. I who have had hundreds of thousands of dollars of jewelry to care for in fifteen years, I have not before lost anything. I have now a great pain here, she groaned and laid her hand on her heart. "Since Saturday I can eat nothing."

It happened Saturday but did not become public until yesterday. Miss Clark was preparing to leave after a visit of several days with Mrs. Reginald de Koven, at No. 1625 Park avenue and, for the first time in years, instead of wearing the treasured jewels she left them in her jewel case. She told Marie to pack her trunk for her trip to Japan and then come to the St. Regis, where Mrs. Clark planned to spend a few days before leaving. Miss Clark, however, went to the hotel, leaving Marie to pack her trunk and her maid to pack her trunk.

Saturday afternoon, she says, trying to get the trunk packed and reach the hotel in time to attend her mistress for the evening, but it was ten o'clock at night before she could start.

After a great many tries, assisted by the De Koven maid and the footman, she finally got the trunk packed and started for the hotel.

She had a hat box and valise with her and carried the jewel case, her own pocketbook, an umbrella and an extra coat over her arm.

It happened also that the doorman of the St. Regis was busy opening the door of another motor, so that he had to put down the jewel case to open the taxi's door. As she stepped out the doorman hustled up and she stepped back while he took out the valise and the hat box.

"How much?" she asked the chauffeur. It was 45 cents, and she found she had exactly 75. "It is just right," she told him. He thanked her, looked around and the doorman had closed the door of his cab, and drove off.

The jewelry case was still inside on the seat but no one knew it.

The maid, followed by a bellboy with the valise and hat box, rushed into the hotel. She found her mistress had gone to the theatre. Then she went to her own room and sank down to rest after her rush to the hotel, and it was only then she remembered she had not picked up the jewel case after she stepped down in the cab. She was about fifteen minutes late.

All the detectives of the East 51st Street Station have to work with her assurance that it was a gray taxicab. The taxi company which operates the gray cabs has questioned its drivers and examined its records, but finds no clue. The police believe that either the chauffeur suppressed the record of the trip and kept the jewels, or that some later passenger appropriated them. They say they have not yet been able to get the details of the story and the

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man entered the grounds of a country fair, carrying a sum of money. He found the fair grounds divided into four enclosures. See diagram. To enter enclosure A, he paid one dollar admission. In A he spent one-half of what he had left. He paid one dollar to leave A and one dollar to enter B, where he spent one-half of what he had left. He spent one dollar to leave B, and one dollar to enter C, where he spent one-half of what he still had. He paid one dollar to leave C and one dollar to enter D. There he spent one-half of what he still had, and paid a dollar to leave. He then found that he had nothing. How much did he start with?

Yesterday's answer:

May hope to reach a ripe old age
And find therein his stay.

The words "neither," "neither" and "therein" are composed of the same seven letters.

the Temple of Solomon, which dates back more than 3,000 centuries. This Carthage was inhabited by Egyptians at least 800 years before Dido and her Phoenician followers landed, as narrated by Virgil and other authors.

The Count and his fellow-workers also have unearthed about 500 miniature urns, in which were buried the bones of hundreds of children. This discovery is believed to establish the truth of the legend that whenever the ancient Carthaginians sought to appease their gods they put to death children, ranging in age from 4 months to 12 years. These sacrifices were made to Baal Moloch.

Will Honor Poe.

The Poe ceremony will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Addresses will be made by Count Prorok, Viscount G. de la Jarric, of France; Leonce Rabillon, the French consul, and Dr. Gilbert Chirard, professor of French in the Johns Hopkins University. Mrs. Conolly Ward, of Washington, will read some of the best-known poems and Arthur Chase will sing Poe's "Requiem" and "Hymn."

A bronze memorial tablet, engraved with the French national colors and surrounded with wreaths of flowers sent by French poets, then will be placed upon the tomb of Poe.
